09/03/14 What: Youth Advisory Council FPS members' first meeting Where: Battle High School, Columbia, MO Who: Columbia Public Schools Future Problem Solvers members How: Sloane Scott, our collaborator with the City's Council for the YAC's creation, explained to a group of former CPS/FPS members about the new project. We looked at a mind map of activities brainstormed by FPS members for YAC. We examined the first few essential starting tasks, like introducing the project to Columbia citizens and recruiting new members. We emphasized the necessity of diversity in the YAC. Our thought process was that the more diverse it is, the more diverse the ideas will be.

They offered our FPS team the opportunity to use their equipment and to train our members.

Sloane's email to Mrs. Erickson, the CAT-TV correspondent:

Mrs. Erickson,

Hello! My name is Sloane Scott and I'm a student representative for the Youth Summit. I learned from Mrs. Friesz that CAT might be interested in training a few members of our Future Problem Solvers team, (the student-led group who's working to create and promote the official Youth Advisory Council), to cover the Summit. Unfortunately I didn't email you in time for us to meet on the 4th or 5th, but would another upcoming date work? Please let me know, and thank you for providing us with this opportunity.

Sloane Scott

09/16/14 What: Youth Community Coalition (YC2) meeting Who: FPS members, Mr. Leuchtman, Mrs. Freisz of YC2 Where: YC2 headquarters How: We discussed the YAC application with YC2 representative Erin Freisz. YC2 donated $1500 for Youth Summit resources, including food and space reservation. We discussed leadership training and the YAC selection process.

Principal Rukstad,

Last summer, the Future Problem Solvers' Project CREATE in collaboration with the What if...? Conference, placed fourth in the world thanks to the supports of our wonderful CPS educators, students and parents.

This year, we're collaborating with the City of Columbia to offer an opportunity for high school youth to work with city officials, businesses and nonprofits to develop and implement practical solutions to community issues that extend beyond matters pertaining solely to their age. The project is called the Youth Advisory Council, or YAC.

YAC is looking for students who would like to make a difference in their community. Through participating in our monthly meetings, which will include engaging and interactive discussions and activities, students will be able to enhance leadership, communication, and problem solving skills.

Our Youth Summit is Saturday, October 4th from 10 a.m. to Noon at the Activities and Recreation Center (ARC). We were able to invite the Mayor as our guest speaker.

We'd love for you to spread the word to other educators and their students about this wonderful opportunity. Attached is a link to our website that breaks down all the information in this email, including the application form.

We greatly appreciate your attention and effort. Best regards,

Dzung Nguyen

Principal Rukstad forwarded the email to all Rock Bridge faculty members

09/30/14 What: White House email/invitation to Michelle Obama, asking her to attend the upcoming Youth Summit. Unfortunately, she declined.

Dear Sloane:

Thank you for writing to the First Lady. We appreciate your interest in extending an invitation to Mrs. Obama, and we are looking forward to reviewing your request.

To submit or re-submit an invitation to Mrs. Obama, please mail the invitation to the attention of The First Lady's Office, The White House, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20500, or submit the invitation request through the Contact Us page on WhiteHouse.gov.

As you consider including the First Lady in your plans please note that, due to the time constraints of the First Lady's schedule, we typically do not arrange her calendar more than 4-12 weeks in advance of the event date. We also do not generally accept invitations for events that will take place more than one year from the day our office receives the request. To ensure that your scheduling request is processed appropriately, we ask that you kindly submit your invitation within that time frame.

Thank you again for your interest in including the First Lady in your plans.

Sincerely,

The Scheduling Department
Office of the First Lady
